

Mid-Level Architect

Roman and Williams Buildings and Interiors, architecture and interiors firm in NoHo in New York City, seeks a motivated architect with 3-5 years of full-time office experience. The firm is currently working on a wide range of projects across the globe, which include: hospitality projects (both interior renovations and ground up new construction), institutional projects, mixed-use and retail projects, and high-end residential projects.

Applicants should be able to work proficiently with standard computer production programs such as AutoCAD, Adobe Creative Suite (Photoshop, InDesign, Illustrator). Working knowledge of 3-D modeling programs such as Rhino and Sketch-Up a plus. For this position applicants should feel comfortable in all phases of document production, with a good eye for both presentation design and detail design. Applicants with previous experience or training in traditional modes of architecture & design, furniture design, and/or hospitality work a plus.

Ideal applicant will be extremely self-motivated, highly curious and have the ability to think and work on multiple projects at once. We are a dynamic, creative office in the atelier style where each individual is involved in all aspects of design and production. We are not looking for a cog in a wheel, but someone who think and work at the broadest and smallest of scales.

Please send resume, portfolio and drawing samples to: applications@romanandwilliams.com
Please be sure to include the job title in the subject line of your email.