

Junior Architectural Designer

Asher Slaunwhite Architects is a residential design firm specializing in high-end custom work in Philadelphia and along the New Jersey coast. The firm seeks a Junior Architectural Designer who is passionate about design excellence and has 1-2 years' experience, to work as team member on single and multi-family projects.

Responsibilities:

- Develop Construction Documents for residential projects under the direction of the Project Manager and Firm Principal
- Interface with consultants, contractors and clients during design and construction
- Conduct architectural surveys and input plans into CAD format
- Conduct site visits to monitor progress of construction

Skills Required:

- AutoCAD Proficiency
- Sketch Up; Adobe Creative Suite
- Knowledge of construction materials, components, and assemblies
- Ability to develop construction details and specifications
- Ability to interface effectively with consultants, clients, contractors
- Knowledge of code review processes and procedures
- Familiarity with procurement of construction services
- Excellent attention to detail and organizational skills
- Strong computer fluency with working knowledge of Microsoft Office Applications

Our 20-person firm offers competitive salary and benefits, including AXP support, excellent work environment and convenient location close to public transportation. Please send resume and work samples to asherinfo@asherarchitects.com or call 215-576-1413. EOE